MEETING.

MR. BELL GIVES HIM A SHARP DIG ABOUT "NO-TORIETY" - COMMISSIONER TAPPEN ALSO GETS MUCH EXCITED-ALTOGETHER IT WAS A LIVELY SESSION.

President Clausen, of the Park Department, gave he spectators at the meeting of the Park Board resterday another free exhibition of his delightful The secretary read a letter of December 19 from Olmsted, Olmsted & Ellot, Brookline, Mass., Frederick Law Olmsted's firm, replying to the board's telegraphic request to hear from him definitely by yesterday's meeting. In the answer the firm wrote that Mr. Olmsted had been engaged upon his report daily for some time, but doubted whether he could finish it in time. The matter therefore, went over.

Mr. Clausen's opportunity came when Commis sioner Bell brought up the question of reinstating a veteran soldier of the Union Army named Dugan, who had been a driver in the department. Mr. ell moved that he be reinstated, as the law required, and a driver who was not a veteran droppe make a place for Dugan.

'T'm against reinstating this man," said Presi Clausen, "unless he'll agree to do any kind of work he is told to do. He told me that his friends would get him back, and that as a driver, Now, if he comes back he'll come as a laborer of nothing. This man must do the work I tell him

"Dugan has the law on his side," persisted Commissioner Bell, "and should be reinstated as a "What do you know about the law?" asked the president, disdainfully. "I know Dugan has the law on his side," retorted Commissioner Bell.

"Judge Tappen knows more of the law than you You are seeking after newspaper notoriety," said Clausen, with a rising inflection in his voice. "What's that?" said Commissioner Bell, rising from his chair.

President Clausen brought his fist down on the table and repeated: "I say you are after notoriety."

"Idon't want the notoriety you have," said Com-missioner Bell, sarcastically.

The President colored at this chot and exclaimed:

"I'm not afraid of the newspapers. Your con-duct has not been that of a Commissioner, but rather that of an agent."

"Sir, I resent that imputation," replied Commis-sioner Bell.

Description of the public and the public any more. Tappen would not listen to tit. He arose from his chair and shouted: "I won't go on with this meeting."

Suiting the action to the word the irate Commissioner strode away from the table. There was a painful silence while Commissioner Hell and Commissioner Clausen cast unfriendly looks at each other. Suddenly Commissioner Tappen changed his mind and resumed his seat. There was no one to cast oil on the troubled waters and another tilt followed.

mmissioner Bell, you don't care for routine ess. You only look out for things that you can otoriety out of," said President Clausen, storiety?" repeated the attacked Commissioner

"Yes, and we have to have discipline and the president.

"Discipline, that's the thing. There's a lack of barmony here," said Commissioner Tappen.

At the mention of the word harmony some one citting among the spectators laughed outright.

This nettled Commissioner Tappen, and he glared in the direction of the person who had given vent to his amusement. Then his eye fell upon the reporters, who were busily writine.

"This is all going in the papers. That's right. Put down all the details," said the Commissioner savagety.

There was then an executive session.

A CHRISTMAS THUNDER-STORM.

OG. RAIN, LIGHTNING, THUNDER, BREAKING LOUDS AND A MILD TEMPERATURE MADE UP ONE DAY IN NEW-YORK.

An unusually dense fog enshrouded the city yesterday, seriously impeding navigation and all kinds of traffic. It was preceded by heavy rains, accompanied by loud thunder and vivid lightning. About 4:30 a. m. there was a remarkable disturbance of the elements, the thunder sounding like continuous salvos of heavy artillery, the lightning being of startling brilliancy, and the rain descending in tor-

The fog steadily increased in density till long past noon, when it slowly subsided, but it did not disappear entirely until the day was done.

Meanwhile the rain continued to fall so rapidly that the streets were flooded and the cellars along the waterfronts on both the East and Hudson rivers, were filled with water. Umbrellas afforded scant protection, and a strong wind drove the pelting rain in the faces of the men and women, and caused great discomfort. Ferry-boats made few trips, and the Brooklyn Bridge cars were crowded to their utmost capacity. Although shipping men declared that the fog was one of the worst ever experienced in this city, there were no accidents reported either on the rivers or bay.

Fortunately the temperature was mild, and, in fact, thick winter caousing made one feel uncomfortably warm. Clear and cooler weather is predicted for to-day. that the streets were flooded and the cellars along

THE CONTROLLER DISCHARGED TWO CLEKES. Controller Fitch made a considerable change in his clerical force yesterday. Patrick Walsh, a temporary clerk in the Department of Texas, was dis-charged and arrested. He had been drinking and had defaced one of the books with blood and ink. Later the Controller discharged Emanuel Lowenstein, a $1,300 clerk in the Bureau of Arrears, and suspended judgment in the case of William O'Con-nell, a $1,600 clerk in the same bureau. Taxpayers complained that they were compelled to cool their heels in the office while these clerks regaled their fellows with jokes.

HENRY ELIAS DEAD.

THE ATTEMPT HE MADE ON HIS LIFE HAS PROVED SUCCESSFUL

lienry Ellas the millionaire brewer, who at tempted suicide Monday morning by cutting his throat, at his home, No. 414 East Fifty-seventh-st. died there yesterday morning. Except to the pected, as it was generally understood that he was out of danger. His death resulted principally from shock attending the attempt he made on his life. The wounds he inflicted were by no means fatal, but his heart was in such a weak condition that the doctors had fears for his recovery.

He was thirty-seven years old, and was the vicepresident of the Henry Elias Brewing Company in of the concern. His wealth was estimated at eral years ago in Europe. His family consists of a wife and three children. He cut his throat while temporarily deranged by sickness. He was the East Fifty-first-st. station was on guard by his bedside until yesterday, when a police justice sent to the house and accepted hall for his ap-pearance in court should be recover.

Mr. Ellas had been suffering for a long time from inflammatory rheumatism, and for the last two years was practically unable to attend to business. It is said that before illness attacked him he was possessed of prodigious strength. When it one of his reckless moods a form of amusement he sometimes adopted was to drive a team and heavy brewery truck through the streets, sitting on the box dressed like one of his workmen.

A FIGHT AT THE HOLLAND HOUSE.

HUSSEY ANOTHER ONE, MAKE A LIVELY

ave., an hour before noon yesterday led to the ar rest of George White, a sporting man from Roches ter, and his arraignment at the Jefferson Marke ing concealed weapons. The charge was a muci milder one than the offence warranted, but the com-

White was accompanied to court by several sport-ing men, including "Doe" Crosby, who is said to be attached to "Phil" Dwyer in some capacity, and "Bill" Busteed, who is confidential man for Gideon & Daly. The complainant in the case was C. A Morris, who says he lives at the Holland House, but whose name is said to be C. A. Hussey, a sporting man, who hangs around the hotels and gets up little poker games. He and White have known each for a long time, and there has been had blood be-tween them over some card matter. At 10 a. m. yesterday the men met in the barroom of the Gilsey House. There were some words and White tried to strike Hussey. Hussey left the place and went around to the Holland House. White foilowed him into the barroom, and made a slash at Hussey with his cane, which Hussey grabbed and took from him after a fight. Then White made a rush, trying to knock Hussey down. Hussey hit him in the head with the cane, making an ugly looking cut over the left eye.

Detective Conway, of the Holland House, separated the two men and put White out of the place. White at once went to Broadway and bought a dagger about nine inches long, which he put into his pocket. Then he started back to the hotel in search of Hussey. At Broadway and Thirtieth-st. he met Hussey, who was accompanied by Polleeman Lawless of the West Thirtieth-st station. White rushed up to Hussey, shouting: "Now I've got you, and I'm going to pay you up for that trick."

Lawless scrang forward and grabbed White, and for the scuffle the knife dropped out of White's pocket. It was not until nearly 4 p. m. when White was brought before Justice Voorhis in the Jefferson Market Court. The delay in bringing White to court was due to the fact that he was too much under the influence of liquor to be taken to court.

White then was in a penitent frame of mind. He said that he had just come on from Rochester and had been drinking hard for several days. He did not know what he had done, he said.

Justice Voorkis held him in $1,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. White did not have the bonds in court, and wanted to be allowed to wait until a bondsman could be sent for. "Doe" Crosby pulled out a big roll of bills and offered to give cash bonds to any amount, but Justice Voorhis said he would rather have real estate security, James O'Connor, of No. 622 Madison-ave., gave the required ball later.

torney Battle yesterday afternoon and askel that Edward R. Knapp be indicted for larceny. The spokesman of the party was J. Hartmann, of No. 338 East Sixth-st. The statement made to Mr. Battle was to the effect that Knapp was the president of the Grocers' and Butchers' Protective and Col-lection Association and Tradesmen's Protective Union. It is alleged that he had offices in the Nassau Chamber: No. 114 Nassau-st., and em-Nassau Chamber, No. 11 Massau-st., and employed the fourteen complainants as collectors. He paid them $15 a week, and, it is alleged, secured from each $160 as a guarantee of good faith. He made a business of collecting for retail dealers in New-York Brooklyn and Jersey City, and had 1,700 or 1,800 cilents. It is now said that he has disappeared and that his accounts are short, the amount of the shortage being estimated at from $5,990 to $8,990.

SUING FOR A REBATE ON LUMBER.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 12 (Special).—Two New-York men were pitted against each other in .he United States District Court here to-day-Charles L. Bucki, vice-president of the Yellow Pine Company, of New-York, and Colonel H. Ramon Duval, presi-Company. Bucki sues the railroad company for breach of contract, the latter having agreed to pay him a certain rebate on lumber freights from Elia-ville to Fernandina. This rebate has not been paid, and Bucki claims to have paid excess charges amounting to over $40,000. The railroad sets up a defence that the payment of a rebate was at that time illegal in Florida, although admitting its lia-bility under the contract originally. Bucki will prob-ably win the case.

Speaking of the observance of the law by the present Administration, Mr. Schurz sald:

The Treasury Department under Mr. Carlisle has, I regret to say, won an unenvisible distinction. He ginning with an act of gross nepotism, his management has not only furnished the strongest proof of the necessity of putting the chiefs of division under Civil Service rules, so as to protect those places, in the manifest interest of the service, against the encroachments of spoils politics, but in the matter of removals, reductions and promotions shifts have been resorted to which without perhaps violating the letter of the law, have run counter to its spirit in a manner but too well calculated to impair among the subordinates that reliano upon fidelity and efficiency for continuance in office and for promotion which is indispensed to aphold the morale of the force, and which prevails everywhere else in the classified service. In this respect the Treasury Department under Mr. Carlisle has conspicuously fallen below the standard maintained by his predecessors since the enactment of the Civil Service law.

Among other evidences of progress Mr. Schurz

Among other evidences of progress Mr. Schurz noted the triumph in the State of New York which he called unique. The late Constitutional Convention proposed the embodiment in the State Consti-tution of a clause making the introduction of the competitive merit system in the State and municipal service obligatory; the people have ratified the amendment, and thus in New-York Civil Service Reform has obtained the sanction of a constitu-tional mandate. The gain of the cause of reform in public senti-ment Mr. Schurz thought was great.

AEMY AND NAVY ORDERS.

Washington, Dec. 12 (Special).—The following Naval orders have been issued: Lieutenant J. J. Knapp ordered to examination for promotion; As-sistant Naval Constructor Lawrence Spear transferred from the Union Iron Works to the Mare Island Navy Yard.

The following special army orders have been is sued: Lieutenant-Colonel James Gilliss, deputy quartermaster-general, will relieve Captain Henry G. Sharpe, commissary of subsistence, of the duffes of purchasing commissary at St. Louis, and per-form them during his absence on leave. Leave of absence for twenty-one days is granted Captain Henry G. Sharpe commissary of subsistence Leave of absence for one month is granted Colone Daingerfield Parker, 18th Infantry.

The following changes of recruiting officers are made: First Lieutenant James B. Hughes, 16th Cavalry, will be relieved without delay from duty with the recruiting detachment at Jefferson Barracks, and will proceed to St. Louis and assum-charge of the recruiting station in that city, re lieving First Lieutenant Horatio G. ordered the goods sent to No. 39 Fourth-st., Brooklyn. He gave his name as Ludwig Lammell and spoke nothing but German.

From the moment he entered the store this lavish purchaser was watched by a special officer, Charles Gleason, who took note of his purchases. He was close behind him as he started upstairs from the crockery room. On the stairway a girl passing down screamed and cried out that the stranger had threatened to shoot her.

Gleason placed his hand on the man's shoulder. He cautioned the girl to pass on quietly, and he then led Lammell before Superintendent Schoolhouse. Gleason searched him and found a loaded revolver in a hip pocket. All he would say was that the goods should be sent to the place where he directed and that his "boss" would pay for them. "If he don't, I will blow his brains out," he muttered in German. He also made some remarks about being tired of life himself. When asked who his employer was, he said he worked for a lithographer named Sliged at No. 40 Centre-st.

The money which he had pald as deposits was returned to him. It amounted altogether to $15. Gleason the Mercer-st, station, where he was locked up until the afternoon session of court. The charge of insanity was then made against him and he was sent to Hellevue. The revolver he had was fully loaded.
